

Participation of Midwest in world trade urged by Institute speaker

"In developing foreign trade, you are doing something for all the people—you are bringing prosperity to the nation!"

That is way, according to A. M. Strong, vice president of the American National Bank and Trust of Chicago, it is so important for businessmen to engage in world trade.

Strong was guest speaker at the dinner Tuesday which closed the World Trade Institute series at the university.

Foreign trade is even more vital to Nebraskans than to citizens of many other states, he declared. For our whole economy is based on only one thing: agriculture.

Urges statistical compilation

Foreign commerce would help to stabilize our economy and keep us from depending too much on farm prices for prosperity, Strong pointed out.

Strong outlined two ways in which expansion of foreign commerce can be aided in the Midwest:

1. Compile statistics on our overseas exports and imports and circulate them. This would enable other countries as well as ourselves to know just what we are doing in this field.

2. Promote the education of our own people in foreign trade. The press should take a leading part in this development, he declared. In this connection, he praised OU for its promotion of coordination between business and higher education.

International motif stressed

In concluding his talk, Strong urged all business, large or small, to participate in world trade. He pointed out how easy it is for any concern to enter this field. And "anything produced here can be exported," he asserted.

The banquet itself stressed the international motif. The waitresses, members of the Home Economics Club, wore costumes representing various countries all over the globe.

Spanish and Mexican costumes were worn by Pat Loop and Carole Shelton. Belle Strattan was dressed as a Dutch girl, Mary Jean Brockmyer in a Czech costume and Doris Henderson in a Chinese outfit.

Rehearsals begin for spring play

Places, cues, let's go.

In this atmosphere daily rehearsals for OU's spring play, "The Late George Apley," began Monday afternoon.

Late Wednesday two unfilled parts and numerous staff positions were named by Mrs. Frances Key, faculty sponsor.

Tom Meyer will play the part of Horatio Willing. Mary Ann Linn has the role of Emily Southworth. Other members of the cast were announced last week.

Charles Farnham, fresh from handling the beauty contest lighting, takes over as technical director. On the stage crew are Dave Elmore, John Marshal, Bob Kistler and members of Play Production 222.

In charge of lights is Mildred Mann. Her assistant will be Peter Francis.

Publicity will be handled by La Verne Sweigard and Jean McDonald. The business staff is composed of Jack Katz, Lloyd Metheny and Eileen Wolfe.

Other committees are:

Props: June Conrad, James Dimartino, Barbara Carleman, Marion Galtner, Marguerite Mulready, Burl Robins and Margaret Ann Smith.
Costumes: Beverly Horne, Jeanette Snyder and Jean Durney.
Makeup: Robert Duckworth, Marilyn Andersen, Nancy Ferguson, Betty Vickery, Clare Carlson and Bonnie Wilson.

First floor to get two more telephones

Two new telephones, complete with booths, will be installed in the main hall within a short time, according to Finance Secretary Charles Hoff.

Mr. Hoff said that the telephone company will furnish the booths and phones but that installation will be left up to Building and Grounds Superintendent Jack Adwers and his staff.

The booths will be placed flush with the wall in the hallway east of the auditorium. So that newcomers to the school will know the telephones' location, a sign will be fastened to the wall.

The one available phone now in use, in the lower northeast wing of the building, was called inadequate.

Night class learns designing principles

Want to beat the housing shortage?

Help is at hand from the new night school course, Interior Designing, which meets on Wednesdays. It takes up the problems connected with blueprinting a house for livability and attractiveness.

Principles of interior decoration will also be studied.

Car wrecks, jobs go hand in hand?

Ever wreck your car and get a job as the result?

Dick Burdic did. His auto collided with a shiny new limousine driven by a chauffeur, who explained that his employer would be glad to pay all damages.

After the usual address and telephone number exchange, Burdic called the employer to arrange a settlement.

"I'm going to have to fire that man," she said. "This is the second time he has had an accident with my car."

Burdic is the lady's new chauffeur.

Fieldhouse steelwork starts

Work will take forty-five days

The Fieldhouse is taking shape. Today the first steel section of the Fieldhouse is pointing skyward. It was erected Monday by three giant "crawling cranes."

Charles Hoff, OU's finance secretary, expressed the feelings of many students when he declared, "It was a real thrill to see that first steel girder go up."

The girder which the cranes deposited was one of five parts composing an arch 75 feet high. Each complete arch weighs slightly under 40 tons. Twelve such arches will be erected within the next month and a half. Each will be linked with a steel beam.

No contracts have been let beyond the steel fabrication. The general contract, the last of three, will include windows, lighting, plumbing and heating.

Bricks, Bids and Bleachers

One million twenty-three thousand bricks are also included in the contract. They will be used in the facing of the structure and are the same color as those of the main building.

"So far, we are only advertising for bids on the seating, both in the Fieldhouse and for the proposed stadium," said Hoff.

Architects estimate the cost for the entire structure will be $705,000. This includes seats and first section of the bleachers, the basketball floor, and the heating, lighting and locker room facilities.

A four-months delay in the arrival of the steel due to snow storms kept both Hoff and Jack Adwers, building and ground superintendent, from naming a completion date.

All Out For Fall

However, according to Hoff, "We're going all out for next fall. We're at a place where we must have facilities. We've told Benson (Turn to page 2)

Teachers-to-be assigned schools

"Prospective teachers from Omaha U will number almost seventy by the end of the year according to the lists of the present practice teachers," is the hopeful outlook this week of Frank H. Gorman, professor of education.

Spending two to three hours a day in Omaha and Council Bluffs schools, the practice teachers observe for six weeks the methods of teaching, materials taught, and personalities of the children.

Students, and the schools at which they practice teach are as follows:

Central High
Edward Kaiser, William McDonald, DeLone Pilger, Charles Dus, Leopold Hoppe, Marjory Mahoney, Ernest Flecky, Wayne Scott, Vera Gustason, Dorothy McGrath.
Benson High
Victoria Holder, Phyllis Earp, Charles Freed, Patricia Loop.
Technical High
Milton Jacobson, Maurice Schultz, Milton Mallory, Virginia Petrick.

Dull pencils doomed

OU's 14 student council members decided to sharpen up things around the university.

Their request for new pencil sharpeners was rewarded by Charles Hoff, finance secretary, who purchased eight additional pencil sharpeners and placed them strategically about the building.

"These new additions should clear up any of the students' troubles toward dull or broken pencils," he said.

OU debaters nab top tourney spots

OU's debaters brought home something less tasty, but more tangible, than the proverbial bacon after the Nebraska tournament held in Lincoln Friday and Saturday.

It was in the form of three ratings of superior, four excellent and one of good on the basis of their work in debate, discussion and oratory.

The two debate teams came through with excellent ratings. John Madden nabbed a superior, Gene Step and Fred Schuermann took excellent and Marjory Mahoney was rated good. The topic for debate was federal aid to education.

In the discussion series, Step and Schuermann came through with superiors while discussing civil rights and Eileen Wolfe picked up an excellent.

Madden was rated excellent for his participation in the oratory division. Harley Beber, the sixth member of the squad, was entered in radio newscasting.

The debaters are on the move again this weekend. Two teams left for Kearney yesterday for another contest.

The girl's team is composed of Eileen Wolfe and Lois Brady, and Robert Neujahr and Gerald Roitstein make up the men's team.

In addition to debate, they will participate in oratory, extemporaneous speaking and discussion.

OU students Pat Loop, Mary Jean Brockmyer and Carole Shelton, dressed in colorful costumes of foreign lands, hold some of the food imported for the World Trade dinner Tuesday night. The three girls served as waitresses.

Engineers' Club sees video, tours company

Twenty-five members of the Engineers' Club toured the American Smelting and Refining Company of Omaha last Monday. It is the largest company of its kind in the country.

Different methods of extracting gold, silver and lead from ore were illustrated to the group.

"We got a lot of first-hand information that will be of considerable help to us," commented Planning Committee Chairman Kenneth Dyas.

A trip through the World-Herald plant is on tap for the group.

Archipenko exhibition features modern art

Modern art made easy is the theme of the Archipenko exhibition on the west end of the third floor.

Material explaining the work of the artist was given to visitors, when the exhibition officially opened Wednesday. It will last through March 25.

The display, loaned by the artist, comprises works in bronze, silver, plastic, and other artistic media. The collection is valued at $15,000.

Alexander Archipenko is a modern American artist living in New York City. His sculpture and painting represents the American way of thinking as much as the airplane does, according to Dr. Berthe Koch, head of the Art Department.

Austen classic reviewed

Although usually thought of as a woman's book, "Pride and Prejudice" has much to offer any reader.

It is not only the story of a woman trying to see that her five daughters make suitable marriages, but also deals with problems of getting along with people.

These were the conclusions reached by a group of English Department faculty members on the second program of a series entitled "Read It Again," presented at noon last Sunday.

GREASEPAINT AND NEW WAX

Three OU students grabbed parts in COMMAND DECISION, the Community Playhouse offering from March 29 to April 12.

The drama, by William Wister Haines, examines the brass hats who made the Air Forces' combat-policy decisions during the past war.

Warren Wittkind plays Brig. Gen. Clifton Garnet, a stateside general who learns the score about combat missions before the play is over. Clare Carlson is Major Davis, the weather officer, and Wayne Helgeson is George Washington Culpepper Lee. Dallas Madison, who attended the university last year, is Evans, the headquarters sergeant.

In JOHN LOVES MARY, Ronald Reagan is married to an English girl who loves Jack Carson who is already married to someone else. On top of all this confusion, Reagan wants to marry Patricia Neal.

HATTER'S CASTLE shows Robert Newton as a shop owner with delusions of grandeur. One guesses this because he has built his house to resemble a castle. This ambition kills off half of his family until leaving his unmarried pregnant daughter, Deborah Kerr, in a melodramatic mess until James Mason makes an honest woman out of her.

CHICKEN EVERY SUNDAY is a turn-of-the-century fable with Dan Dailey and Celeste Holm. It's really folksy.

The recent L.S.-T.B.M. campaign seems to have had a "shattering" effect upon staff members of The Creightonian.

Two columnists on that paper, like most Omahans, were unable to translate the pre-basketball game mystery letters into "Let's Shatter the Bluejay Myth." The difficulty persisted—even after they had received the copy of The Gateway that disclosed the meaning.

One writer glanced through The Gateway and printed "Let's Scalp the Blue Jay," which, of course, contained the right idea, but the wrong wrong words.

The other columnist read the letters closely enough to come out of the brain teaser with all but two words correct. He used "scalp that" instead of "shatter the."

Thrilled by his shrewdness, the scribe consulted an English professor for grammatical implications. Together, they hurled the shattering charge that The Gateway was mixing its metaphors when it used "scalp" and "myth" in the same phrase. Actually, "scalp" was their own creation.

The columnist concluded: "After a close look I agree with him (the English prof) but I hope that after the game that the whole school in the west is thoroughly as mixed, but up."

Mixing self-derision with the acumen shown in his skillful jibe, the author forgot to put a comma after "him," and tossed in two "thats" around the clause "after the game."

Indians chalk up good record

'Wild Hoss' still Nebraska byword

"The Wild Horse" is evidently still a byword as far as Nebraska coaching and banquet circles are concerned.

Bill Glassford, new head football coach at the University of Nebraska, made this apparent in a recent speech at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Glassford spoke of OU coach Lloyd Cardwell (The Wild Horse) as the greatest football player he ever played against.

The former Pittsburg lineman played against Cardie in the middle 30's. Glassford was playing guard for one of Jack Sutherland's great Pittsburg teams and Cardie was running wild for Coach Dana Bible's Cornhusker eleven.

Lighter given to Green Bay-bound Charlie Brock

"Just remember the three S's boys," said Charlie Brock to the "O" Club Monday night. "Those three S's are Sportsmanship, Spirit and Scholarship."

Brock went on to say that "athletic careers are short. Be sure that you don't let your studies slip; because some day, you are going to have to fall back on them."

President Clark Fobes presented Charlie with a cigarette lighter inscribed with the red letter "O" as a token of the club's appreciation for the fine job he has done in his year at OU.

Good luck—Charlie

After Charlie's speech, "O" Club members filed by to shake his hand and wish him good luck in his new venture with the Packers.

Other business of the club concerned plans for a Maie Day float and the arrival of club pins which are similar to those worn by fraternities and sororities.

An amendment to the club's constitution was ratified whereas a member who misses two meetings

Ten won—ten lost. That's the best post-war basketball record at the university. It was compiled by Coach Don Pflasterer and his court men this season.

There are always people who say that our cage squad should have won a couple more games. But there are four or five wins on the record which could have gone either way.

The Indians hit their offensive peak against Midland College at Fremont when they nudged the Warriors, 70-65, in an overtime tilt. Ernie Flecky scored 22 points against Midland to post his and the teams high game total for the season.

Top Game

Coach Pflasterer believes that his squad played its best ball against Simpson College on the Indianola floor. The Indians won that game 59-55 in an overtime period.

Defensively, the Red and Black played their best against Iowa and Maryville Teachers.

Lou Clure and Glen Richter, two mainstays of recent Indian court teams, played their last game in intercollegiate circles against Creighton. Clure hopes to graduate this June and Richter intends to pursue his art career after this semester.

Outlook is bright

At the present moment, the 1949-50 cage outlook is bright. Pflasterer should have plenty of experienced hands back in the fold plus several valuable additions.

Oberg gain a great deal of needed experience this year and teamed with Frank Slogr, Pflasterer will have two good pivot-men.

Standbys Ray Schmidt, Archie Arvin, Don Fitch, Joe Arenas, Ernie Flecky and Walt Matejka will also be around next season.

Four overtime games were played this season and the Indians won all four. Two were narrow squeaks over Doane, 53-52 and 68-67. The other two were against Midland and Simpson.

The next meeting will be held the first Monday in April.

Packer keggers move near lead

A determined bid by the South High Packers to gain the No. 1 spot in the Intramural Bowling League failed Tuesday at the 40 Bowl.

The best the south siders could do was pick up two games from a spirited bunch of North High boys. A clean sweep would have vaulted the South team to the top of the throne.

Phi Sigs managed to keep their slim one game lead over South by dropping Tech twice. Paced by Win Hultquist's high 208 game the Maroons scared Phi Sigs in the last game but fell 786 to 730.

A never say die Outstate five threw Alpha Sigs further down the ladder by racking up 3 victories. McKenzie led his mates with a 508 total.

Benson squeezed two from Delta Beta despite Carl Brizzi's 504 series.

Ray Lampe of South walked off with high series honors. He parlayed games of 190, 183, and 172 for 545. Hultquist and his 208 captured high individual game.

Five players top 100-point mark; Oberg heads list

Five players of Coach Don Pflasterer's cage squad managed to climb above the 100-point mark this season. Four of the five will return for next year's court wars.

Center Guy Oberg led his closest teammate by 66 points to gain the 1948-49 Indian court scoring title. Guy appeared in all 20 contest and racked up 213 points for an average of 10.6.

Oberg's highest game total was compiled against Simpson College on their floor. The 6-ft. 3½-in. pivot man poured 19 points through the hoop to give the Indians a 59-55 overtime win.

Flecky holds second

Next in line was former Creighton star Ernie Flecky. Flecky started slowly with the Indians but after mid-season, he began to get his bearings and wound up with 147 points.

Ernie pulled at least two ball games out of the fire, if not more. In the second Midland encounter, he scored the tying basket with two seconds remaining of regulation play.

Against Doane at Tech, Ernie sent the tilt into overtime with a basket just 15 seconds before the horn sounded.

Arenas owns third

Steady Joe Arenas nabbed the third position with 130 points. Joe's one-hand set shot was a thorn in the side of many opponents.

Glen Richter was the fourth of five players to top the 100 point mark for the season. Glen, playing his last season for the Indians, tallied 123 points.

Don Fitch's 108 counters were good enough to give him fifth spot in the scoring race.

Charlie Brock's Papooses wound up their season with a record of twelve wins sandwiched between losses in opening and closing games.

After the fireworks were over, Bob Farner came out on top in the scoring race with 92 points in 13 encounters. His nearest rival was big Bob Stedman, who ended with 74 markers in 10 tilts.

Little Joe Cupich had the top free throw average of the season. He dropped in 18 of 28 charity tosses for a .643 percentage.

Farner and Stedman also paced the squad in the personal foul column. This time Stedman came first with 34 fouls while Farner had 24 miscues chalked against him.

The Brockmen poured a total of 635 points through the hoop this season while their opponents dropped in 472. The young Indians cashed in on 143 of 310 charity tosses for a .461 average.

National sorority officers to invade OU for Phi Omega chapter formal initiation

National sorority women will invade the OU campus the week end of April 1.

Formal installation of Pi Omega Pi, local sorority, as Zeta Delta chapter of Chi Omega, national sorority, will be held at that time.

Heading the delegation of national officers will be Miss Elizabeth Dyer, vice president.

Representatives of Chi Omega chapters from Drake University, Coe College, Iowa State College, Kansas State College, Culver-Stockton, and the Universities of Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas will also attend.

Pledge April

The local group will be pledged the evening of April 1 at the university. Miss Evelyn Shute, Chi Omega chapter visitor, will officiate. A buffet supper will follow the ceremony.

The chapter will be formally installed the afternoon of April 2 at the university. Officers of Chi Omega at the University of Nebraska will present a model initiation after the installation.

A formal banquet will be held that evening at the Fontenelle Hotel. President Bail will welcome the new national sorority.

The new Chi Omegas will be entertained Sunday afternoon at a tea at the home of Mrs. Eugene Church. Other guests will be new members' mothers, members of the university faculty, representatives of all national sorority alumnae groups in Omaha and of local university sororities.

Pi Omega Pi was founded at OU 27 years ago. Zeta Delta will be the 150th chapter of Chi Omega.

Theta Phi Deltas initiate fall pledges

The active roll of Theta Phi Delta was increased by 17 Wednesday night.

Initiated in formal ceremonies in the faculty clubroom were Bernard Anderson, Robert Anderson, Ken Brooke, Martin Conboy, James Daley, Glen Driscoll, Jim Flicker, Ronnie Hines and Robert Lindwall.

Others are Donald Peterson, Douglas Rogers, Thomas Slack, La Vern Sweigard, Wallace Wright, Donald Worely, Ray Dolk and Jim Mead.

Dead herrings don't whistle.

Sororities disclose new pledge groups

After signing preference cards Monday, 17 girls were accepted as pledges of the five social sororities.

Second semester pledge groups as announced by the Intersorority Council are:

Kappa Psi Delta; Marguerite Mulready, Frances Ramer.

Gamma Sigma Omicron; Marilyn Hartung, Peggy Stine, Joan Bugbee.

Phi Delta Psi; Sue Ann Amick, Juanita Hagarity, Laura Hawkins, Dorothy Hines, Carol Mosley, Rogene Pearson.

Engagements

Koopman-Conboy

Jo Ann Koopman will marry Martin Conboy, Jr. this summer.

Conboy, a sophomore at OU, is affiliated with Theta Phi Delta fraternity.

Sexton-Queen

The engagement of Connie Sexton to William Queen has been announced.

Miss Sexton is a junior at the university.

Pi Omega Pi; Carol Berg, Chloe Correll, Jo Harlan.

Sigma Chi Omicron: Carol Dawson, Madelyn Elliot, and Dolores Heinisch.

Frat rushees sign choice Wednesday

Late rushees will sign preference cards Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Dean of Students office. This was decided at an Interfraternity Council luncheon meeting Tuesday.

The council announced the names of the following mid-semester rushees accepted for pledging:

Alpha Sigma Lambda; Robert Ackerman, Lenard Best, Richard C. King, Walter A. Munson, Jr. and Donald M. Sims.

Beta Tau Kappa; Robert Rubenstein.

Phi Sigma Phi; Marvin H. Bandomer, Charles Drapolik and Ward Martin.

Theta Phi Delta; Roy S. Denker, Don Gibson, Wayne Helgesen, Don Siebler and John Sorenson.

Other business at the meeting included action to be taken on a report by Mr. Harry on the scholastic average of the school's sororities and fraternities.

Pi Kappa Delta held election of officers

Pi Kappa Delta, debate fraternity, halted arguments on current problems long enough to elect their officers Wednesday afternoon.

Elected were Eileen Wolfe, president; Eugene Step, vice president; Lois Brady secretary-treasurer; and Bob Neujahr, reporter.

Mrs. Eugene Kingman talks to faculty club

The Faculty Women's Club held its monthly meeting and tea yesterday in the faculty clubroom. Mrs. Eugene Kingman spoke on phases of anthropology.

Miss Gertrude Kincaide was meeting chairman. Hostesses were Miss Hedvig Nyholm and Mesdames Laurence A. Frye, Leslie O. Taylor, Cheryl H. Prewett and Jack G. Somny.

Phi Deltas activate 14 pledges Monday

End of the trial period is in sight for Phi Delta Psi pledges. Those pledged last semester will be formally installed Monday evening in the faculty clubroom.

New actives will be Shirley Ayres, Barbara Comstock, Lucille DiGiacamo, Regina Harvey, Eileen Duncomb, Mary McBride, and Barbara Nestander.

Others are Joan Nelson, Jo Ann Olsen, Jean Reid, Shirley Welniak, Suzanne Nelson, Pat Murphy and Irene Squires.

JOHNNY

HELPS VERNA VAULT TO
SARTORIAL IMPECCABILITY

IF THESE CLUMSY BELDAMES CAN'T FIT ME ANY BETTER, I WON'T TAKE PART IN THE SCHOOL FASHION SHOW

GRACIOUS, VERNA! SUCH A HOYDENISH DIATRIBE! STOP IT AT ONCE!

REALLY, VERNA, YOU MUST RESTRAIN THOSE XENOPHOBIC RAGES OR YOU CAN'T APPEAR IN THE SHOW AT ALL!

OH! I'M SORRY! BUT THOSE AWFUL WOMEN SIMPLY DROVE ME WILD

SHE'S BEEN WORKING SO HARD! PLEASE GIVE HER ANOTHER CHANCE, MISS JOHNNY

I CAN'T SAVE YOU AGAIN, DUCKLING, YOU'D BETTER GET SWEET FAST

OH, I'VE BEEN STUDYING A LOT AND SMOKING HEAVILY. MY THROAT'S SO IRRITATED, I GET CRANKY WITH PEOPLE

SOUNDS LIKE CIGARETTE HANGOVER TO ME. THAT CAN MAKE YOU IRRITABLE AND MAKE YOUR THROAT FEEL SMOKED-OUT. WHY NOT CHANGE TO PHILIP MORRIS, THE ONE LEADING CIGARETTE PROVED DEFINITELY LESS IRRITATING?

OKAY-I'LL TRY THEM

OH THANK YOU! EVER SINCE I SWITCHED TO PHILIP MORRIS MY DISPOSITION HAS BEEN AS NICE AS YOU LADIES HAVE MADE ME LOOK

MADemoiselle, YOU ARE THE VERY CREME DE LA CREME OF THE HAUTE COUTURE

MY DEAR, YOU'LL BE A PAPHIAN SENSATION!

SHE'S QUITE THE LOVELIEST GIRL I EVER SAW!

AND THE BEST-NATURED NOW- THANKS TO PHILIP MORRIS AND JOHNNY

IT WAS A PLEASURE TO HELP HER!

Treat Ponderous Polysyllables Politely!
(i.e., Handle with care!)

BELDAME (bél-dum)—Ugly elderly female.

CIGARETTE HANGOVER—(Don't articulate it—eliminate it.) That stale smoked-out taste; that tight dry feeling in your throat due to smoking.

CREME DE LA CREME (krém de la krém)—The cherry on the Charlotte Russe.

DIATRIBE (dyé-ah-tribe)—A verbal blast.

HAUTE COUTURE (ot-koo-toor)—"high fashion" to you.

HOYDENISH (hóy-den-ish)—Like a tom-boy, a tom-girl.

IMPECCABILITY (im-pék-ah-bil-it-ee)—Elegance above censure.

PAPHIAN (pay-fee-an)—Paphos Isle was Venus' birthplace.

SARTORIAL (sar-toir-ee-al)—Pertaining to the raiment.

XENOPHOBIC (zee-no-fó-blik)—In fear of being choked.

Every Good Story Points A Moral—

Behind our playful plot, our intentions are serious: we want you to discover for yourself the welcome DIFFERENCE in cigarettes that PHILIP MORRIS can bring you.

Established PROOF of that difference is too extensive to be detailed here—but pre-medical and chemistry students, who will be especially interested can get it in published form FREE, by writing our Research Dept., Philip Morris Co., 119 Fifth Ave., N. Y.
